Our brand new Website has been launched. The aims?

To ensure everyone can access the library of clinical information we routinely supply our patients, ensuring an understanding of the importance of 'Clinical Optometry' as opposed to retail driven optician businesses.

While we are confident we are amongst the premier clinical optometrists in Britain, evidenced by our numerous awards and advanced qualifications, we are, to a large extent, a well kept secret. Unless someone has visited the practice it is impossible to imagine the vast floor space and frame choice within, or the services offered. It is part of our ethos to never dictate to anyone what they can or cannot afford or may or may not value; rather it is our belief everyone is entitled to the courtesy of CHOICE.

The website allows everyone a virtual tour of the practice.
